

National webinar on "How to be Conservation Leaders: A Case Study of Greater Adjutant Conservation"

Date: 27-08-2020

Organized by: Department of Zoology, Darrang College in collaboration with IQAC, Darrang College

Resource Person: Dr Purnima Devi Barman, Aaranyak

The Department of Zoology, Darrang College, in collaboration with IQAC have organized a national webinar on "How to be Conservation Leaders: A Case Study of Greater Adjutant Conservation," with Dr. Purnima Devi Barman from Aaranyak as the resource speaker. She was the recipient of the 2017 Green Oscar, Nari Shakti Purashkar by the President of India, Director of The Women in Nature Network (WiNN), India, and Coordinator of the Greater Adjutant Conservation Project, Aaranyak, Guwahati. There were more than 340 participants, including UG and PG students. Research scholars and faculty members have attended the session. The national webinar provided opportunities for young students, researchers, conservationists, and faculty members to learn about the various opportunities for biodiversity conservation in northeast India through online lectures, case studies, and interaction. The case study on greater adjutant conservation served as a valuable model for the successful conservation of various endangered species in Northeast India.
