Distribution of Marks: Internal – 40 | External – 60 | Total – 100

Teaching Learning Process

The course follows a guided project-based approach involving:

- Orientation sessions and supervisor consultations.
- Library and field-based study.
- Data collection, analysis, and report preparation.
- Presentation and viva-voce.

Teaching Learning Tools

Library resources, internet-based materials, field surveys, interviews, questionnaires, statistical tools for data analysis, and project supervision sessions.

Evaluation / Assessment

Assessment will be based on both internal and external evaluation (Internal: 40 Marks, External: 60 Marks).

Evaluation includes continuous assessment, report submission, and viva-voce.

Internal Assessment (40 Marks):

- Home Assignment / Group Discussion related to Project – 15 Marks
- Library / Field Work – 15 Marks
- Attendance / Participation – 10 Marks

External Assessment (60 Marks):

- Project Report – 40 Marks
- Viva Voce – 20 Marks

Course Outcomes

After completion of this course, learners will be able to:

- Explain the process of conducting a project.

- Apply research methods in education.
- Prepare, present, and defend a project report.

Guidelines for Project Work

Each student must complete one project related to any area of the syllabus under faculty supervision. The project will be evaluated jointly by internal and external examiners through viva-voce.

The Project Report should include:

1. Title of the Project
2. Introduction
3. Importance of the Study
4. Objectives of the Study
5. Review of Related Literature (if any)
6. Methods and Procedure
7. Data Analysis and Discussion
8. Conclusion

8TH SEMESTER

4. DISSERTATION

Course Code: EDU-RMJ-080116

Total Credits: 12 (Theory: 0, Practical: 12)

Contact Hours: 180 (Lecture: 0, Practical: 180)

Distribution of Marks: Internal – 160 | External – 240 | Total – 400

Course outcomes:

After completing this course, the learner will be able to:

1. Identify key issues and researchable problems in the field of education.
2. Explain relevant theoretical frameworks and concepts based on a review of literature.
3. Apply appropriate research methods and tools to investigate the selected problem.
4. Demonstrate the use of academic writing and referencing styles effectively in the preparation of the dissertation.
5. Analyze data systematically to derive meaningful patterns and insights.
6. Evaluate the relevance and accuracy of research findings in the context of existing studies.
7. Formulate a coherent research design and structure for the dissertation.
8. Construct a well-argued and evidence-based research report.
9. Present research findings clearly through oral and/or visual modes of communication.
10. Practice adherence to ethical standards in conducting and reporting educational research.

I	Orientation & Topic Selection: Structured orientation on academic research principles and methodologies. Consultation with faculty to identify researchable issues in education. Topic relevance, feasibility, and alignment with academic discourse.	-	-	36	36
II	Research Proposal & Approval: Preparation of comprehensive research proposal. Presentation before Departmental Research Committee for feedback and formal approval. Formal assignment of Research Supervisor/Mentor.	-	-	36	36

III	Research Phase: Systematic research under supervisor guidance. Regular academic engagement with supervisor. Monthly progress report submissions. Data collection and preliminary analysis.	-	-	36	36
IV	Dissertation Writing: Formal academic writing adhering to prescribed structure and formatting guidelines. Upholding ethical standards, originality, and plagiarism avoidance. Preparation of plagiarism verification report.	-	-	36	36
V	Evaluation & Viva Voce: Final dissertation submission. Internal assessment of research process and draft. External evaluation of dissertation. Viva voce examination before panel of internal and external evaluators.	-	-	36	36
Total		-	-	180	180

Procedure:

For dissertation, a topic related to issues in education shall be assigned to each student, to be completed within a semester under the guidance and supervision of a mentor teacher. The dissertation will be evaluated by both internal and external examiners. The performance of each student in research-based activities leading to the dissertation in the eighth semester shall be assessed internally and externally, with a total of 400 marks. The procedure shall be carried out in the following structured phases:

1. Orientation: At the commencement of the semester, students shall undergo a structured orientation designed to acquaint them with the fundamental principles and methodologies of academic research.
2. Topic Selection: Students will engage in consultations with faculty members to identify a researchable issue within the field of education. The topic must be relevant, feasible, and aligned with current academic discourse.
3. Topic Approval: Each student will be formally assigned a dissertation topic upon approval by the Departmental Research Committee. A faculty member will be appointed as the Research Supervisor/Mentor to provide consistent academic guidance throughout the research process.
4. Research Proposal: Students are required to prepare a comprehensive research proposal. The proposal shall be presented before the Departmental Research Committee for critical feedback and formal approval.
5. Research Phase: Upon approval of the proposal, students will undertake systematic research under the continuous supervision of their designated mentor. Regular academic engagement with the supervisor is mandatory, and students must submit monthly progress reports documenting the advancement of their research.
6. Dissertation Writing: The dissertation must be written in a formal academic style, conforming to the prescribed structure and formatting guidelines. Ethical standards must be upheld, particularly with respect to originality and plagiarism, and students are required to submit a plagiarism verification report.

Evaluation Criteria:

1. Internal Evaluation (160 Marks): The internal assessment shall be conducted by faculty members based on the following components:

- Quality and presentation of the research proposal
- Consistency and quality of interaction with the supervisor
- Timeliness and thoroughness of progress report submissions
- Rigour of data collection and preliminary analysis
- Submission of the dissertation draft and performance in the internal viva voce

2. External Evaluation (240 Marks): The final evaluation will be carried out by an external examiner and will include:

- Critical assessment of the submitted dissertation
- Viva voce examination wherein the candidate must defend their research before a panel comprising internal and external evaluators
- The evaluation will consider the clarity and significance of the research problem, methodological soundness, originality, coherence of arguments, data interpretation, and the effectiveness of oral communication during the viva.

8TH SEMESTER

Course Title: SEMINAR PAPER PREPARATION AND PRESENTATION

Course Code: EDU-RMJ-08024

Total Credits: 4 (Theory: 0, Practical/Tutorial: 4)

Contact Hours: 60 (Lecture: 0, Practical: 60)

Distribution of Marks: Internal – 40 | External – 60 | Total – 100

Teaching-Learning Process

- The course will be delivered through structured instructional sessions/classes aimed at systematically guiding students through each phase of seminar paper preparation and presentation.
- Students are required to select a relevant and academically appropriate topic within the field of Education, in consultation with the course instructor/mentor teacher.
- Under the supervision of assigned faculty members/mentor teacher, students will engage in their seminar papers, and integrate credible academic sources while adhering to established ethical standards, including the avoidance of plagiarism and the proper citation of references.
- Students must prepare appropriate visual aids—such as PowerPoint presentations or academic posters—to complement and enhance the clarity of their oral presentations.

- Each student will be expected to deliver a final presentation of their seminar paper during the designated examination period.

Course Outcomes

After completing this course, the learner will be able to:

1. Prepare seminar papers and present them to demonstrate skills and knowledge needed to effectively research, write, and present academic papers.
2. Draft, revise, and edit seminar papers to enhance clarity, coherence, and scholarly rigour.
3. Construct logical, evidence-based arguments and counterarguments.
4. Design and deliver clear and engaging oral presentations.
5. Use visual aids (e.g., PowerPoint, posters) effectively to support the presentation.
6. Develop public speaking skills, including maintaining audience engagement and managing Q&A sessions.
7. Apply time management skills to meet deadlines for various stages of paper preparation and presentation.
8. Explain ethical issues in research, including plagiarism and proper attribution of sources.

Evaluation/Assessment

Internal Assessment (40 Marks):

- The internal examiner will assess students based on the quality and academic rigour of the written seminar paper.
- Active participation in class activities.
- Performance in Sessional Test(s).

External Assessment (60 Marks):

- The external examiner will evaluate the final presentation based on the content and organization of the paper.
- Clarity of delivery.
- Effective use of visual aids.
- Audience engagement.
- The student's ability to respond to questions and feedback.
